

American World Dentistry & Oral Health Congress

American Dentistry Congress
2026

September 17-18, 2026
Toronto, Canada

ABOUT CONFERENCE

The American World Dentistry & Oral Health Congress is a premier international gathering designed to bring together leading experts, practitioners, researchers, and innovators in the field of dentistry and oral healthcare. This congress provides a dynamic platform for knowledge exchange, hands-on learning, and collaboration across all specialties in dentistry—from preventive care and orthodontics to restorative dentistry and emerging technologies. Participants will also explore global challenges such as oral cancer, periodontal disease, pediatric oral health, digital dentistry, and the integration of AI in diagnostics. Networking opportunities with international peers and industry partners will foster collaborations that advance oral healthcare standards worldwide. This congress is not just a meeting—it's a movement to shape the future of dentistry and oral health globally.
